DONNA MARIE ALLAIRE

"Success is going through a cheer without a mistake."

Donna is one of the people who has cheered the teams on to many victories. She's a serious worker, but when the work is done she enjoys herself. "Dawn" will always be associated in our thoughts with the little red and white truck.

Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheerleader 3, 4; Office Staff 2, 4; Student Council 3, (Secretary 4); Reflector 2, 3, 4; Aftermath (Associate Editor); Photographer Committee.

LYNDA JEAN ANDERSON

"It's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice."

Lynda, always bubbling over with excitement, is never sad. Her true friendship, extensive wardrobe, and leadership as captain of the cheerleaders will long remain in our minds.

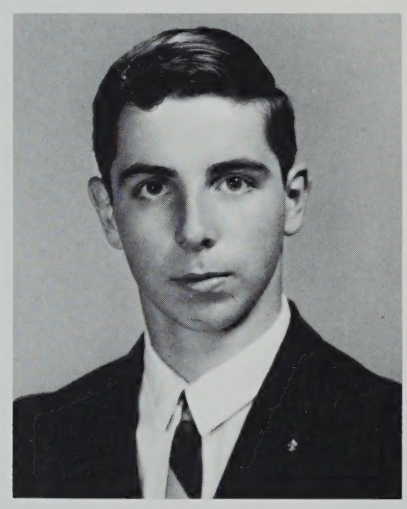
Reflector 4; Biology Club 2; Glee Club 1; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Library Staff 2; Office Staff 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker.

RACHEL MARIE ARCHAMBAULT

"If there's a song to sing, let me sing it."

Rachel will always be remembered as "the girl with the beautiful voice." Her contribution to the Glee Club and her congeniality will be among our memories of high school years.

French Club 2; Biology Club 2; Softball 1; Library Staff 2, 3; Basketball 1, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4,; Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4; Prom Committee 3, 4; Photographer Committee; Song Committee.



JAMES BRUCE BALLARD

"The world makes way for a determined man."

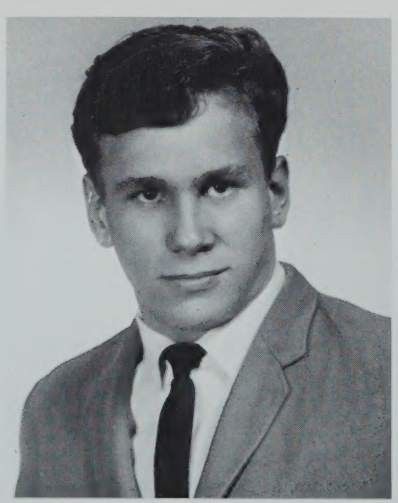
Jim is quiet and reserved, a person who knows what he wants and is not afraid to go after it. His determination and perseverance will be rewarded, we know, by his success in his chosen career.

Biology Club; Science Club 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; French Club (Treasurer 1), 2.

FRANK WALTER BENGTSON

"One boy is more trouble than a dozen girls."

Frank, who joined us in our last year at M.M.H.S., will long be remembered by both his teachers and classmates. His ability to cause a disturbance in any class, at any time, is one of his most outstanding characteristics.



TERRY FRANKLIN BICKFORD

"I agree with no man's opinions; I have some of my own."

Terry is one of the more serious members of our class. He is diligent in everything he does, whether it's working or having fun. His seriousness of purpose and his experiences as an Eagle Scout will certainly aid him in the future.

French Club 1, 2; Science Club 3, 4; Biology Club.

CHARLENE GLORIA BLACKBURN

"Her work will always be rewarded."

Charlene is one of the quieter seniors, but she is friendly to all. She will always be remembered for her work at the Hilltop Market.

DONALD IRVING BLAKE, JR.

"Carefree and happy am I."

"Blake" is one member of our class who doesn't seem to have a care in the world and to whom mischief is no stranger. To those who know him he has proved to be a loyal and trusted friend.

ROBERT FRANCIS BLAKE

"I'm a man of few words."

Bob, one of the quieter members of our class, is a mystery to many. One thing we do know—he has definite plans for the future. We wish you the best of luck in the service, Bob!

JO ANN BLANCHARD

"Innocent are her looks—but not her ways."

She's a fun-loving person who will always be around when excitement starts. We'll always remember the girl with the look of happiness in her big brown eyes.

Glee Club 1.

RAYMOND FRANCIS BOUCHER

"A trainload of ambition."

Ray is undoubtedly one of the most industrious people in our class. The scholastic record he has achieved during the past 4 years is proof of his fine work. Ray will certainly be a success in whatever field of endeavor he enters.

Science Club (Vice-President 3, 4); National Honor Society 3, 4.

SANDRA HELEN BOUDREAU

"She ought to have what she wants, and what's more she will."

Sandy is a person on whom you can always rely when there are tasks to be done. She'll be remembered for her work in school and at the Hilltop Market.

Reflector 3, (Business Manager 4); French Club 1; Dramatics 1, 2, 4; Biology Club 2; Glee Club 1; Prom Committee 4.

PATRICIA ANNE BUFFONE

"A kind and gentle heart has she."

A girl who is often quiet, Pat is always ready to lend a helping hand to anyone who needs it. She will definitely be a compassionate nurse.

French Club 1; Dramatics 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Staff 2; Office Staff 4; Prom Committee 4.

RICHARD PAUL CARBRELLO

"I want to be shy, but the girls won't let me."

Throughout his years at M.H.S. Rick has given the impression of being shy and reserved, but those who are well acquainted with him know him to be a real "ladies' man." With his personality and ability, he is bound to be a success in life.

Class Secretary 1; Football Manager 3; Track 1, 2; Golf 3, 4; Student Council 3; Orchestra Committee 4.

DAVID JOHN CARLSON

"Be just as you are—'tis better so."

Dave is one of the quieter people in our class. His main interest is working on cars. He can usually be found at the drags on Sunday afternoons.

Football 1, 2, 3; Track 3.

BARBARA JEAN CARON

"The will of true wit is wit itself."

Barb is one of the more humorous members of our class. She is known for her infectious laugh, cheerfulness and friendly ways—all assets which have gained her many friends. Her sunny disposition will contribute greatly to her future happiness.

Reflector 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Class President 1; Class Secretary 3, 4; Softball (Manager 3); Library Staff 3; National Honor Society 3, (Secretary 4); Prom Committee 3, 4; Class Day Speaker.

JANICE CLAIRE COLLETTE

"As prone to mischief as able to perform it."

Janice is a carefree girl and takes life as it comes. She will always be remembered for her surprising ways and her appearances at unsuspected times.

Glee Club 1; Softball 4.

PAULA MARIE COURNOYER

"A cheerful heart and a smiling face."

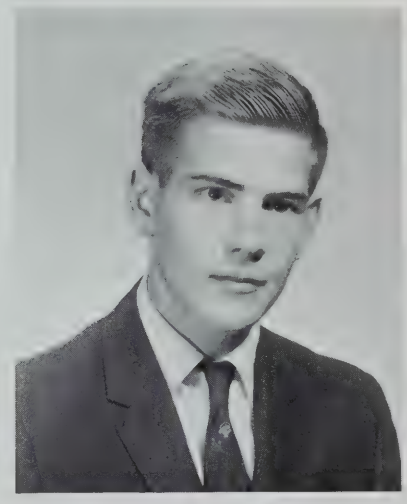
Quietly, yet pleasantly, Paula has gone through her four years of high school. We are sure that her good disposition will continue to make her many friends in the future.

Glee Club 1, 2; Hockey 2, 4; Basketball 2; Prom Committee 3.

STEVEN JOSEPH COUTURE

"He isn't lazy, he's merely conserving his energy."

Steve is carefree and casual, a happy-go-lucky individual. He is well liked by everyone and we feel sure he will find much happiness in the years to come.



ALAN HOWARD CUMMINGS

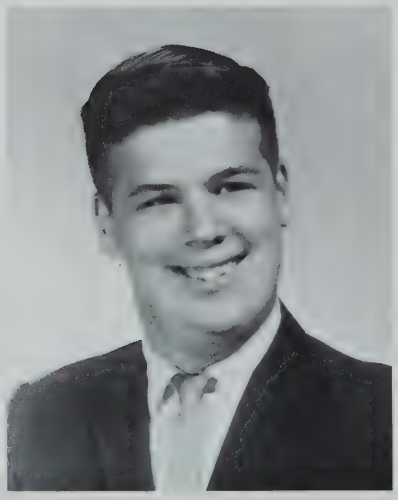
"Silence is as deep as eternity."

Alan is usually quiet, but always friendly in a somewhat shy way. We wish him luck and success in whatever he endeavors to do.

EARLE GRAY DAVIDSON

"The best of men are but men at their best."

Earle will always be remembered for his easy-going manner. His good disposition and willingness to help will surely be assets in the future.



JEANNE ANTONE DiPILATO

"Big things come in small packages."

Jeanne may be tiny, but the life in her is always bursting out. She likes to have a good time although she often adds a little bit of seriousness for a change.

Softball 3, (Co-captain 4); Prom Committee 3.

MARILYN RUTH DUNN

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

She has a warm personality that makes everyone eager to become her friend. "Lyn" will be remembered for her neat appearance and charming ways.

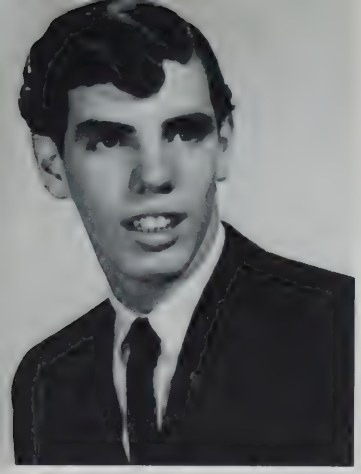
Glee Club 1, 2; Prom Committee 4; Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4.

ELIZABETH JEAN DUPLISEA

"Quiet and sweet; friendly and neat."

Beth is quiet, but she has a sincere unassuming personality, and is friendly to everyone. We are sure she will find happiness in the future.

Reflector (Assistant Literary Editor 4); Glee Club 3; Hockey 2, (Manager 3), 4.



RICHARD JAMES DWINELL

"If you can't have a little fun, what's the use of living?"

Richard is one of the more fun-loving members of our class. He can be found surfing during his spare time with one of his many friends.

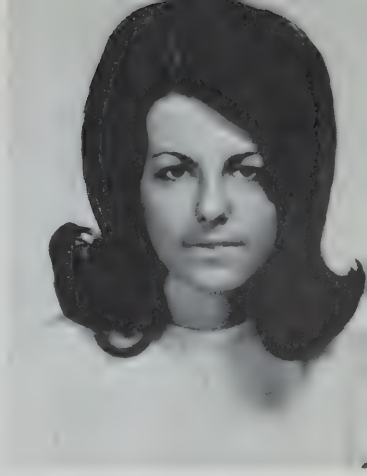
French Club 1; Football 1; Track 1; Student Government Club 4.

PATRICIA ROSE FARON

"It's a friendly heart that has many friends."

This describes Pat perfectly. She is a person to confide in, have fun with, and shed a few tears with. She is always seen with a certain person in a blue Comet.

Reflector 3; French Club 1; Library Staff 1; Prom Committee 4.



JANICE EILEEN FINNEY

"As likeable as she is lookable."

Jan, one of our senior cheerleaders, will always be remembered for her unwavering cheerfulness towards others. She can usually be seen in town driving her big Cadillac Her friends predict for her definite future happiness.

French Club 2; Biology Club 2; Cheerleader 3, 4; Prom Committee 3, 4; Girl's State Representative 3.

MAUREEN MARIE FOLEY

"A cheerful heart and a smiling face put sunshine in the darkest place."

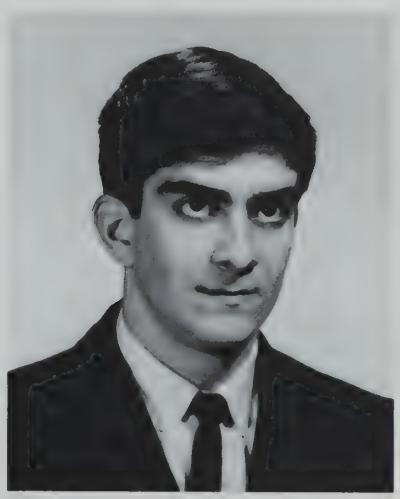
"Moe", who seems to be constantly "on the go", can always find time for a laugh or two (or three). Her many friends will tell you of her lively personality and concern for others. For this girl success will be certain.

French Club (President 1), 2; Class Secretary 2; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Prom Committee 4.

PAUL ALFRED GAGLIARDI

"Good humor is always a success."

Paul is a happy-go-lucky fellow who can usually be found around Heck's. His friendly manner and quick wit make him a friend of everyone he meets.

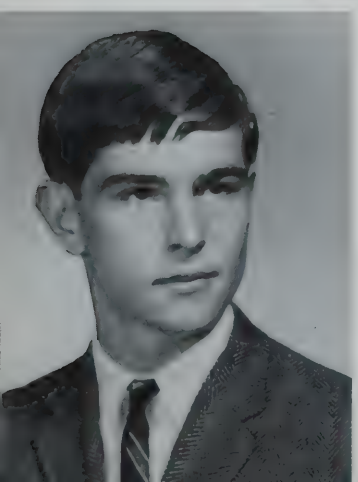


KAREN GAUCHER

"The sky is no higher than your reach."

Karen is one of the quieter girls in the class. But underneath a quiet, shy exterior hides a fun-loving person. She can often be seen riding around town in her '66 Barracuda. She's a diligent worker and we all know she'll be successful in her teaching career.

Reflector 1, 2, 3, 4; French Club 1, 2; Biology Club 2; Hockey 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Prom Committee 3, 4.



MARK EDMOND GAUTHIER

"Sometimes quiet is an unquiet thing."

Mark, who may sometimes appear to be quiet, deceives many, for his somewhat pensive look is often broken up by an extravagant demon-like smile. His variety of clothes has given him the well-deserved title of "Best Dressed Boy" of the senior class.

"Best Dressed"

RONALD ARTHUR GEMME

"A finished gentleman."

Ronnie is one of the best dressed boys in our class. His attire, in this case, does proclaim the man. His easy-going personality and fun-loving nature have earned him a special spot among the boys as well as the girls.

French Club 1; Basketball 2; Track 1; Golf 3, 4.

PATRICIA ANN GIBBONS

"Good sense travels on well-worn paths."

Pat has many virtues which make her the special person she is. She is neat, smart, and charming. Her pretty blue eyes will win the hearts of all who come to know her.

Reflector 2, 4; French Club (Secretary 2); Biology Club (Secretary 2); Basketball 1; Office Staff 2, 3; Ring Committee (Secretary); Prom Committee 3; Senior Honor Group.

PAUL HARRIS GIBBS

"No sinner—yet no saint."

Paul's trip to Washington as Y.M.C.A. Governor of Massachusetts must be a high point of his high school career. His antics during the school day will surely be missed.

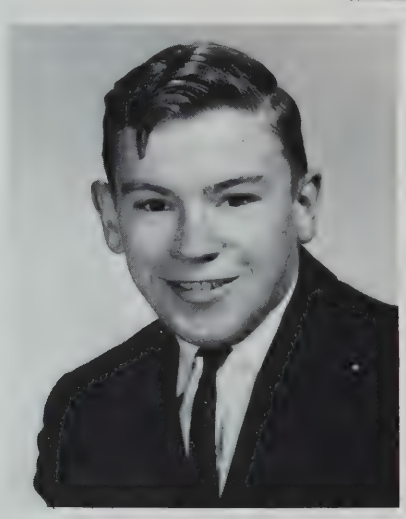
Reflector 3, 4; French Club 2; Dramatics 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Class Vice President 3; Football 1; Student Council 3, (President 4); Prom Committee 3, 4; Government Club 3, 4.

MAUREEN ROSE GIBSON

"Laughter is the best medicine."

Maureen is known for her love of the outdoors and especially horses. The halls of M.M.H.S. will be ever ringing with her laughter.

Senior Honor Group.



ROGER PAUL GODBOUT

"If studies interfere with a good time, why study?"

Roger came to Millbury during our sophomore year. Known as "Butch" to his buddies, he will always be remembered for his all weather exploits on his Honda and his unique physics answers.

LOUISE LUCILLE GRAVEL

"Variety is the spice of life."

Everyone who knows Louise is impressed by her pleasing personality. Her hard work through school has earned her a much deserved reward, that of an honor student, and we are sure that life will reward her just as richly in the future.

Glee Club 3, 4; Office Staff 4; National Honor Society; Senior Honor Group; Horace Mann Student; Prom Committee 3, 4.

RICHARD ALLEN GREEN

"A laugh a day keeps the troubles away."

Richie is one of the most cheerful members of our class. His colorful personality and his unusual merry-making will never be forgotten by his classmates. Good luck in all your future endeavors!

Dramatics 4; Class Captain 1; Class Secretary 3; Student Council 2; Senior Prom Committee.

NANCY ANN GWOZDOWSKI

"A little fun makes the world go round."

Nancy can always be found among a fun-loving group. She will be remembered for her up-to-date wardrobe and hair styles.

Biology Club; Library Staff 1, 2, 3; Office Staff 4; Prom Committee 4; Ring Committee.

MARY RUTH HAMILTON

"A quiet girl—never, a lover of fun—forever."

Mary is one of the captains of the girls' basketball team. She has a way with a basketball, and also with her classmates. She's friendly, and a good companion. Her magnetic personality will attract many friends in the future.

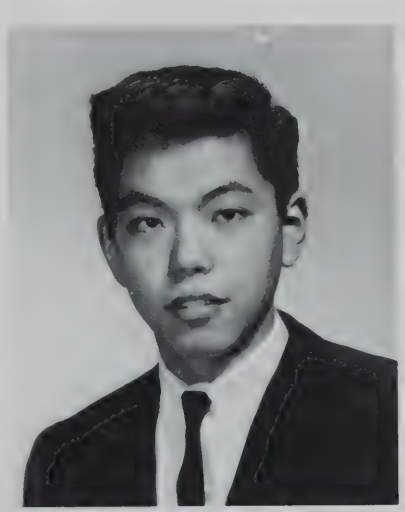
JIRO KATAYAMA HOWARD

"Be a live wire and you won't get stepped on."

Jiro is one person who enjoys life. He's always looking for fun, but there are days when he gets tired.

Science Club 4; Basketball 2; Baseball 3.



MARY ELIZABETH HOYT

"A cheerful heart and a smiling face put sunshine in the darkest place."

For the past four years, Mary has shown to all who have known her an amiable smile and an enthusiastic personality. She is the kind of person who is always there when you need her. Best of luck!

French Club 2; Biology Club (Secretary 2); Prom Committee 3, 4.

BARBARA GLADYS HUMES

"A smile can brighten the darkest of days."

Barbara has a fine personality. Her pretty smile can easily brighten a room. Her diligent work as the chairman of the Senior Prom Committee will always be remembered by all who attended the prom.

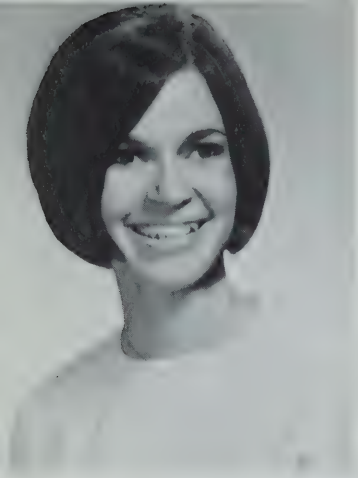
Reflector 2, 3, 4; French Club 1; Dramatics 2, 3, 4; Thespian 4; Prom Committee 3, (Chairman 4).

DONALD WILLIAM JERNSTROM

"Sometimes I sit and think, but most of the time I just sit."

No matter what time of day it is, you can always see Don smiling. He has brightened many a classroom during our days at M.M.H.S.

Cross Country 4; Track 4; Baseball 1, 2.



MARY LYNN KERR

"A winning way, a pleasing smile, dressed so neat and quite in style."

Mary is one of the outstanding persons in our class. She has contributed much to the success of the Reflector, and her interest in other activities has made her one of the busiest girls at M.M.H.S.

Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3; Reflector 2, (Assistant Literary Editor 3) (Literary Editor 4); French Club 2; Prom Committee 4; Aftermath (Assistant Editor).

Representative; Senior Honor Group.

BARBARA ANN KOLOFSKY

"In thinking, idle, wild, and young, I have laughed and danced, and talked and sung."

Barbara is one of the very busy Commercial Course girls. She's very energetic and enjoys life as it comes. Best of luck in your future endeavors.

STEVEN WILLIAM KOTEL

"Not whether he won or lost, but how he played the game."

Shy and quiet on the outside, a mischievous character on the inside, Steve has acquired a fine scholastic and athletic record during his years at M.M.H.S. We wish him luck as a gym teacher.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Vice-President 2; Class Captain 3, 4; Prom Committee 4.

LINDA DIANE LACHANCE

"Sincerity is her outstanding characteristic."

Linda, a somewhat quiet and reserved girl, has reigned well as our Senior Prom Queen. Her intense work as chairman of our magazine drive has proven her ability to do well anything she undertakes.

Reflector 3, (Business Manager 4); National Honor Society 3, 4; Horace Mann Student 3; Glee Club 3; Aftermath Business Staff; Magazine Drive, (Assistant Manager 3), (Manager 4); Youth and Government 4; Senior Honor Group.

DAVID GEORGE LACOUTURE

"I will do all that my conscience will allow."

Dave will do just about anything, no matter what the price may be. He'll be remembered for his never-worry attitude and come-what-may outlook on life.

DANIEL HENRY LAFORTE

"You can only accomplish what you try."

The proof that Dan is a fine athlete is his receipt of the most valuable player award in football. He has made an outstanding contribution to our class and his wit has gained him many friends.

Reflector 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Aftermath Business Staff; Class Secretary 4.

LOUIS JOHN LAMBERT

"Laugh and be merry for tomorrow you may have to work."

Louie is one of the hard working I. A. boys. He's never in a bad mood and brings happiness to all his friends. We're sure that the things he's learned in the shop will make his future a success.

PEARL REGINA LARGESSE

"Little rebel with a twinkle in her eyes."

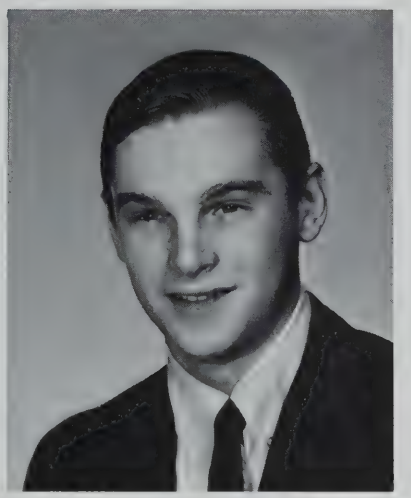
This quotation fits Pearl perfectly. Her eyes are always sparkling and sometimes they outdo the sparkle on her third finger, left hand. She is wished much happiness in her future.

Band 2, 3; Glee Club 2, 3; Office Staff 1, 2, 3, 4.

RICHARD PAUL LAROSEE

"The future belongs to him who knows how to use it."

If money were given out for every time Rich laughed, he would already be a millionaire. A better friend would be hard to find.



ALAN DOUGLAS LAVICH

"Shyness may conceal many a deep thought."

Alan is a friendly, good-natured individual. His respect for other people's opinions has gained him many friends in school, and will earn him many more in the future.

Dramatics 4; Track 1, 2; Golf 4; Prom Committee 3, 4.

DENNIS ROBERT LEARY

"What, me worry?"

Dennis has to be considered one of the more unique members of our class. Nothing seems to bother him and he is able to find fun in everything he does. Best of luck, Dennis!

Track 2.

NANCY ELEANOR LEE

"Full of fun and fancy free, that's the way she'll always be."

Our high school days would never have been the same without Nancy. Her wonderful smile and refreshing laugh will surely be missed by all next year.

Hockey (Manager (1, 2, 3); Library Staff 3.

French Club 1; Dramatics 4; Basketball 1; Prom Committee 3; Senior Honor Group.

JOHN EDWARD LOVE

"Every man is the architect of his own future."

John is one of the scientists in our class. He is also one of the more studious members. We wish him much luck with his future experiments.

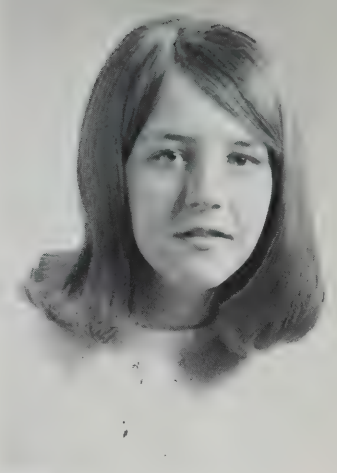
Biology Club; Science Club 4.

JANE FAY LUCAS

"Busy, active, full of fun, much she has undertaken; much she has done."

Jane possesses a faithfulness in purpose and industry that can't be paralleled. Her willingness to help wherever she is needed proves her worth.

Biology Club; Softball 2; Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Prom Committee 4.



JOAN CHARLENE LUCAS

"As restless as a windshield wiper."

"Charlie" is a person who loves people, fun, boys, bowling, and anything that keeps her going. Her ability to put people in a good mood will be missed at M.M.H.S.

French Club 2; Biology Club 2; Library Staff 1, 2; Office Staff 1; Aftermath Business Staff 4; Senior Prom Invitation Committee.

RAYMOND RALPH LUDVIGSON

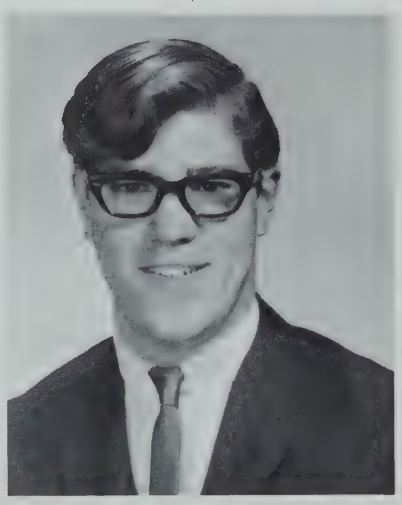
"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

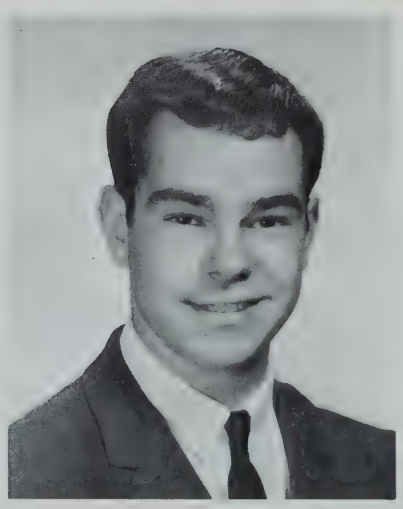
Ray is a "live wire" who is always in the midst of fun. His laughter and antics have given us many lively moments during our stay at M.M.H.S. Good luck in the future, Ray.

ALLEN FRANCIS MARCELL

"Take life too seriously and what is it worth?"

Allen is a very easygoing person who lives each day as it comes. He is friendly to all and because of this is assured of future success.





OLIVER JOSEPH MASON, III

"Give him a bat to swing and he's on his way."

Ollie is studious, athletic, and an able worker. He's a person who likes everyone, including a certain young miss.

Dramatics 3, (President 4); Thespian 3, 4; Biology Club, (Vice-President); Football 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1, 2, 4; Student Council 1, 3, 4; Prom Committee 4; Ring Committee, (Chairman); Class Day Speaker.

SUSAN JEAN McARDLE

"A happy disposition is a gift of the gods."

Susan always manages to be where the fun is. Her exploits with "Sil" and her athletic ability will always be remembered by us. With her ability and disposition it is certain she will be a success in life.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, (Co-captain 4); Prom Committee 4.

JO ANN McGOVERN

"A little girl with a heart for all."

Jo may be small, but her warmth reaches all who know her. Much happiness is wished for her future days.

French Club 2; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 3.

ROBERTA GALE McKAY

"Her golden hair is like the early sun rays of the morn."

Gale always has a cheerful hello for everyone. She is one member of our class with a constant smile and unchanging personality. Her neatness and sparkling blonde hair are definite attributes to her appearance.

Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Dramatics 4; Reflector 3, 4; Office Staff 4; Prom Committee 4.

RICHARD FRANCIS McLAUGHLIN

"There are three days in the week I don't worry about; yesterday, today and tomorrow."

Richard has a peculiar blending of mischievousness and intelligence. Problems don't seem to bother him and he has the ability to do well if he sets his mind to it.

KAREN MARIE MONAHAN

"Life would be dull without sports."

She is an athletic and studious girl. Karen will be remembered for making the softball and basketball teams successful.

Basketball 2, 3; Softball 2, 3, (Co-captain 4); Office Staff 1.

NANCY ELIZABETH MOREN

"When your heart is young life is full of vitality."

Nancy is just as the quotation describes her. She's a person who is full of vitality and always "on the go." Her school spirit and participation have helped us all.

Reflector* 3, 4; French Club (Vice President 1), 2; Biology Club 2; Dramatics 2; Senior Honor Group; Prom Committee 3, 4.

JUDITH ANN NAJEMY

"It is better to be small and shine . . ."

She is one person who will never be dull. Judy is a friend to all and someone we all like to have around. We wish her the best of luck in the future.

French Club 1; Biology Club 2.

THOMAS WILLIAM NAULT

"Why worry about life? You are not going to get out alive anyway."

He is an athletic, hard working, sincere, and fun loving young man. Tom has all the qualities of a leader. We will always be grateful to him for his help to our class.

Biology Club 2; Class President 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4); Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2, (Vice President 3, 4); Prom Committee 4; Student Government Delegate; "Most Popular"; Class Day Speaker.

SUSAN MARIE NETTELBLADT

"What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity."

Sue has two outstanding characteristics; beauty and intelligence. Her wonderful personality will certainly be an asset in her future.

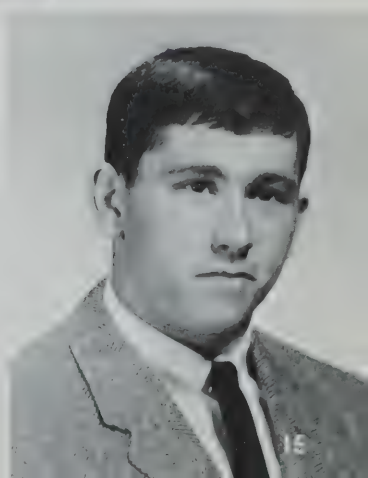
Library Staff 4; Senior Honor Group.

MICHAEL DENNIS NOONAN

"Wit and good humor produce the friendliest people."

Mike will always be found where the fun is. His unbelievable remarks, athletic ability, and friendliness towards everyone will never be forgotten by his classmates.

Football 1, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; "Wittiest".



ROBERT EDWIN NORDSTROM

"A step at a time—one goes a long way."

Bob is an easygoing fellow with no cares. His ability to appear unhurried and worry-free constantly amazes his friends.

Science Club 4; Football 3.

JACQUELINE BERNICE NOWLAN

"Generally speaking, she's generally speaking."

Jack is one of the more vivacious girls in our class. If marks were given out according to one's personality and friendliness this girl would rate straight A's. Her quick humor will forever be etched in our memories.

French Club 2; Softball 2, 3, 4.

MAURICE JOSEPH O'BRIEN, JR.

"If you say it, make it funny."

Maurice is a well liked classmate. His good sense of humor can be observed in many classrooms. This year he is the president of our debating club, which explains why he is never at a loss for words.

French Club 1; Debating Club 1, 2, 3 (President 4); Dramatics.

JAMES ALLAN OJERHOLM

"An innocent look hides a mischievous mind."

Jim is one of the class comedians. His sense of humor often relieved the tension of a class. He will have success in the future because of his great personality and his ability to attract friends.

Science Club 4; Football 1; Golf 4.

STEPHEN MICHAEL ORCUTT

"Never sleep behind the wheel."

Stephen is one of the shy, quiet senior boys, but when you get him on the subject of cars, he will tell you more than you thought possible. Safe driving to Steve.

Football 1; Track 2.

KENNETH LEE PELLETIER

"When I feel like studying I just lie down until the feeling goes away."

Ken will best be remembered for his ready smile, wonderful laugh, and Beatle haircuts. He will indeed be missed by us next year.

Biology Club.

ROBERT JOHN PELLETIER

"Calm and reserved."

Bob's smile and laugh would be an asset to any class. His personality has won him many friends through our high school years.

Football 1, 3, 4.

SANDRA LEE PERRON

"Trouble is her name."

Sandy always seems to get into some predicament, but always finds a way out. She'll always be remembered for the contributions she made to girls' sports.

SHEILA MARIE PERRY

"A sunny outlook on life is the answer to life's problems."

Anyone will admit that Sheila is one person who simply explodes with exuberance. Anytime that she's around there is never a dull moment. Success and happiness are wished to you, Sheila, in every possible way.

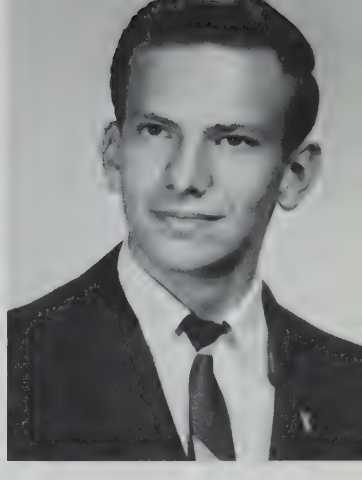
Glee Club 1; Class Treasurer 1; Prom Committee 3, 4; Photographer Committee (Chairman); Twirling 2.

WILLIAM ARTHUR PHILBROOK

"Always shall I work hard and strive for that which will be mine."

Bill is one of those rare individuals who can do all things well. His interest and aptitude in science will make him famous someday.

Science Club 3, (President 4); National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.



ROBERTA IRENE PLATTS

"It is easier not to speak a word at all than to speak more than we should."

Most of the time Roberta is quiet but every so often she utters an expressive laugh to show her true love of fun. Her pleasing manner will be remembered by all. Best of luck!

Glee Club 1.

LINDA LENA RIANI

"Silence is the virtue of the wise."

Linda is the type of girl who doesn't say much, but when she does everyone listens, for it is very worth while. In her own quiet way Linda does her work and does it well. We wish her much success in the future.

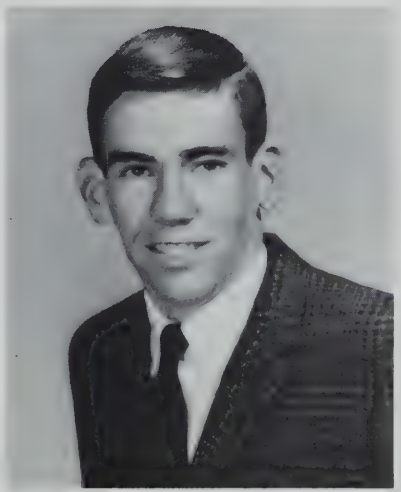
Dramatics 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Hockey 2, 3, 4; Prom Committee 4.

RUSSELL WAYNE RIXHAM

"Boys will be boys."

Russell's smile and personality have made many friends for him during our school years. He will undoubtedly be a success in the future.

Track 2, 3, 4.



DAVID EDWARD ROACH

"Character is the capital of every man."

Dave was chosen as our "most likely to succeed". He's one person who fits into every category of the senior superlatives because of his intelligence, personality, and athletic ability. All these qualities will make his future dreams come true.

Reflector 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, (Co-captain 4); Aftermath (Associate Editor); Horace Mann Student 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, (Treasurer 4); "Most Likely to Succeed"; Graduation Speaker; Senior Honor Group.

KATHLEEN ROGERS

"—Vim, vigor, and vitality rolled into one charming girl —."

Kathy has everything it takes to be a successful nurse. Vitality, intelligence, patience and a desire to help others are just a few of the virtues which will aid her in her future endeavors.

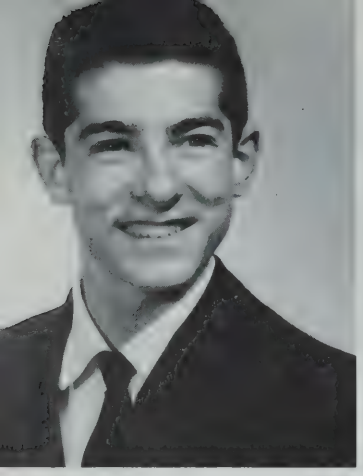
Thespian 4; Biology Club 2; Dramatics 2, (Secretary 3), 4; Prom Committee 4.

STEVEN ANDREW SARJA

"I would be better if I could, but it's awfully lonesome being good."

Steve is probably one of the more mischievous members of our class, but he will be remembered for the smile he has for everyone.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1; Prom Committee 4.



DOUGLAS MELVIN SAVOIE

"Quiet are his ways, but sincere are his thoughts."

He's one of the shy but friendly boys of the class. He's always willing to talk when given the opportunity. "Doug" will be remembered for his cute accent.

JOSEPH PATRICK SCANNELL

"A lover of sports, a lover of fun."

Joe is one of the best all-around athletes in our class. His countless contributions to our sports teams on the "gridiron", "court", and "diamond" gave us all something to cheer about during our four years at M.M.H.S.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4); Football 1, 2, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; "Most Athletic".

EILEEN BRIGID SHEEHAN

She does her work with out being told. She has a head full of sense and a heart full of gold."

Eileen is a hard-working girl with a good personality. Her work as an editor of the Reflector was appreciated by all. We are sure that with her virtues she will succeed in anything she undertakes.

Reflector 2, (Assistant Feature Editor 3), (Feature Editor 4); French Club 2; Dramatics 3, 4; Thespian 4.

LINDA JEAN SILUN

"If I rest, I rust."

Linda's wit, charm, and enthusiasm have made her well liked by everyone. She will always be remembered for her spirit at athletic events and her leadership of Room 30. It is no surprise that she was voted "Most Popular Girl" in our class.

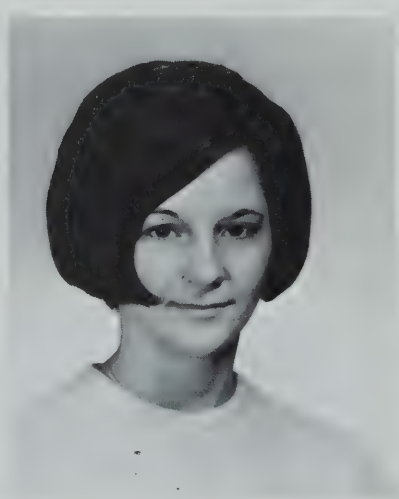
French Club (President 2); Hockey (Manager 2, 3, 4); Basketball (Manager 1, 2, 3, 4); Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Aftermath Business Staff; Prom Committee 3, 4; Student Government 4; Aftermath (Assistant Editor); "Most Popular".

DONNA LYNN SMITH

"Like a glass of champagne, always bubbling over."

Kindness and sincerity are two of Donna's main characteristics. She has a ready smile and a few kind words for anyone who is near her. Much happiness always!

Glee Club 1; Library Staff 2, 3; Prom Committee 3, 4; Twirling 2.



ROYCE DONALD SMITH

"I've conquered school-what comes next?"

Roy's football achievement may never be excelled by another person at Millbury High. Although a freak injury early in the season took away any hopes of Roy breaking the high school record, his fine attempt will never be forgotten.

Football 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Basketball 1, 2; Track 1, 2; Baseball 3.

ALLEN WAYNE STACY

"The faster I go, the happier I'll be."

Allen may be quiet, but when he leaves a group, he is always missed. All his classmates know that he is a good worker.

JO ANNE TARASKIEWICZ

"A good heart is better than all the heads in the world."

Jo is well liked by everyone and is a source of confidence to all her friends. Her neatness, ability to sew, and hard work as Editor-in-Chief of our Aftermath will never be erased from our memories. Happiness is in the affirmative for this girl!

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1; Office Staff 4; Aftermath (Editor-in-Chief); Class Day Speaker.

BARBARA ANN TARBOX

"Wide awake and happy always."

Barb is a very happy-go-lucky girl. She's a reliable person who is always eager to help when there is something to be done. She'll be remembered for her ever present smile.

French Club 1; Biology Club 2; Band 2, 3; Glee Club 2.

BARBARA HELEN THORNBURG

"Her work will end in success."

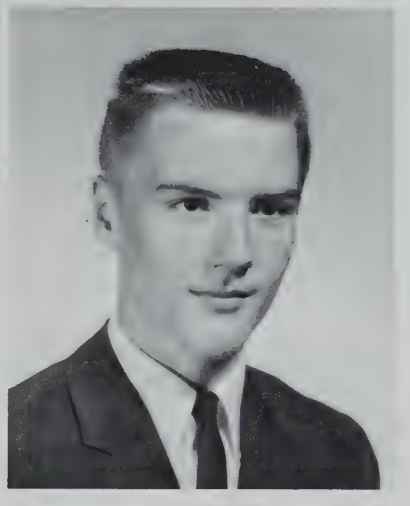
Barbara is a very ambitious person who enjoys the outdoors. She's an avid skier both in the summer and the winter. Right now we wish her much luck in raising her horse.

Biology Club 2; Softball 2, 3, 4.

RICHARD EDWARD THULIN

"A man he seems, of cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows."

Rich is a new member of our senior class. He has made many friends and we all hope he enjoyed his senior year at M.M.H.S.



MARY ANN TRICARICO

"Work plus sacrifice equals achievement."

Mary is a girl who is filled with ambition. She may seem reserved and conservative, but when among friends her subtle wit and friendly manner are very much in evidence.

French Club 1, 2; Dramatics 3, 4; Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.

SARA KAY VARTANIAN

"Bright be the light that lights the path of knowledge."

Sara was a dedicated worker on the Reflector staff. With her intelligence, determination, and good sense of humor we know she will have success in the future.

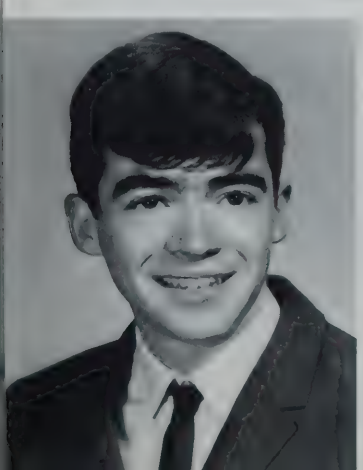
Reflector 3, 4; French Club 2; Dramatics 1; Biology Club 2; Prom Committee 3; Senior Honor Group.

LINDA MADALYN VASSAR

"A quiet person with many hidden qualities."

Linda is one of the quieter girls in our class. Her great ability in gym has made her one of the most physically fit misses in school. We wish her many more happy days in her future.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1.



WAYNE FRANCIS VIGEANT

"A shy appearance, but never doubt, he's a mischievous character, we've found out."

Although Wayne appears shy to those who do not know him well, he is really a friendly person. Wayne has tremendous ability and, if he puts his mind to it, he will be a success in everything he attempts.

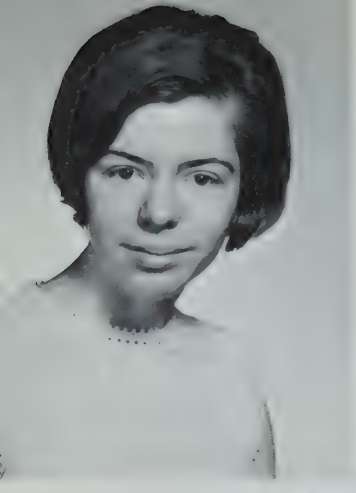
Biology Club 2; Science Club 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.

BRUCE DOUGLAS WATTS

"A likable lad with likable ways can always be counted on to brighten the day."

Bruce may seem quiet and shy, but we know that he is as prone to mischief as any of us. We sincerely hope his future is a great success.

Glee Club 1.



MARCIA ANN WETHERBEE

"The silent person is often worth listening to."

Although quiet and shy, Marcia possesses a mind of her own. Her keen interest in all aspects of biology has enabled her to be a standout at all our science fairs. We wish her the best of luck!

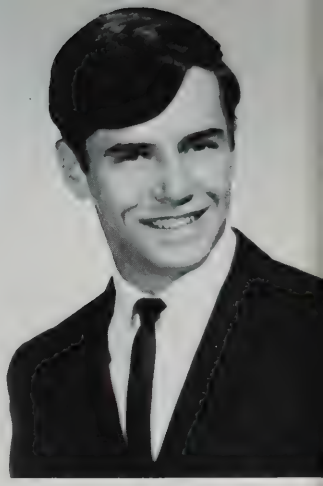
Biology Club 2; Science Club 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.

JOHN JOSEPH WHITERELL

"What would life be without a smile?"

If cars could run on a smile, his car would be forever moving. His many friends testify to his well-liked personality. We know that happiness will follow him wherever he goes.

Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2.



LINDA SHARON YOUNG

"A friendly heart to many friends."

Friendliness and kindness, in which Linda abounds, surely will be assets in her future. We are sure she will find success in anything she undertakes.

Reflector* 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4.

ALFRED JOHN YUKNAVICH

"Worry kills more people than bullets—so why worry?"

Mischievous deeds and Al go hand in hand. If anyone can make a good time out of a classroom discussion, he is the person. He has also assembled a fine record in athletics during his four years at M.M.H.S.

Football 4.

NANCY MARY ZEMAITIS

"Give her a basketball and she's off to glory."

Nancy is one of the senior girls who never runs out of energy. A member of all the sports teams, she was voted "Most Athletic". We wish her much success in her future plans.

French Club 2; Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4); Basketball 1, 2, 3, (Tri-Captain 4); Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; Prom Committee 3, (Co-Chairman 4).

BERNADETTE MARIE ZIMAGE

"Kind ways come from kind people."

Bernadette is known for her concern for everyone. Her understanding of people will help her in her future career.

Dramatics 1; Glee Club 2; Basketball 2; Library Staff.

COACH DEAMER

Address Of Welcome

Parents, Members of the Faculty, Fellow Students, and Friends:

As president of the Senior Class of 1967, it gives me great pleasure to welcome each and every one of you to our Class Day exercises.

Today, June 14, 1967, marks the day that we shall step forward and try to meet the challenges which each new day will bring to us. We are prepared to meet these challenges. We are prepared because a handful of people were willing to accept the challenge of making us, the youths of today, the leaders of tomorrow. To these people, our teachers and parents, we give our warmest and most sincere thanks.

We want to thank especially our principal, Mr. Shaw, who unselfishly devoted his time and efforts to see that our class enjoyed every possible privilege.

We would also like to thank Mr. Chadwick, our class advisor, for his patience, understanding, and encouragement throughout the years. And to the members of the Class of '67, whether you are continuing on in school or going to work, I wish you the very best of luck and all the happiness in the world.

Thank you.

Thomas Nault—President, Class of '67

Song

As we leave Millbury High,
Thoughts of years gone by greet us.
Our sad hearts heave a sigh,
For our dear friends must leave us.
Now as we travel our separate ways,
We'll go forth with courage.
Life awaits; we heed its calls,
But memories will remain with us.

Class History

June 15th, 1967—Yikes! If I remember correctly, that's the date Millbury Memorial High School will hold its graduation exercises for the fabulous 1967 senior class! Before we depart from Millbury High, let us look back upon our good old high school days.

The action all started on September 4, 1963. On this day we elected Barbara Caron as President of our freshman class, along with Maurice O'Brien, Vice-President; Richard Carbrello, Secretary; Sheila Perry, Treasurer; and Richard Green, Class Captain. Susan Catachio and Oliver Mason were chosen to represent us on the Student Council.

Before we knew it, the football season had opened and attracted many of our athletic freshman boys. Among the team members were Tom Nault, Ollie Mason, Mike Noonan, Steve Kotel, Dan LaForte, Bob Pelletier, Steve Orcutt, Steve Sarja, David Roach, Jim Ojerholm, Dave Carlson, Paul Gibbs, Joe Scannell, Richard Dwinell, and Roy Smith. Susan Catachio and Lynda Anderson were selected as the freshman cheerleaders who would cheer the team on to victory.

The Glee Club, Reflector Staff, French Club, Field Hockey team, and Debating Club also caught the eye of several members in our class. The Dramatic Club produced its annual play entitled No More Homework.

Along with basketball came a new experience for the freshmen—we encountered our first set of mid-years. I'm sure we all remember those well!

Shortly after mid-years, baseball and softball seasons opened with several energetic freshman boys and girls joining the teams.

The track team was well supported by the freshman class with Wayne Vigeant, Roy Smith, Ronald Gemme, Richard Dwinell, Rick Carbrello, Alan Lavich, Steve Sarja, Steve Kotel, Mike Noonan, and John Whiterell, all exhibiting their running and jumping abilities.

With the termination of the track and baseball seasons, the school year also came to an end.

With high ideals and goals, the Class of '67 returned as sophomores after a long and restful summer vacation. Class elections were held promptly and the following officers were chosen: Tom Nault, President; Steve Kotel, Vice-President; Maureen Foley, Secretary; Richard Green, Treasurer; and Oliver Mason, Class Captain. The Student Council was composed of sophomores Tom Nault, Sue Catachio, Richard Green, and John Whiterell.

Football season opened attracting many sophomore boys, while Barbara Caron, Sue McArdle, Sandra Perron, Jo Anne Taraskiewicz, Linda Riani, Paula Cournoyer, Pat Buffone, Mary Hamilton, Beth Duplisea, and Nancy Zemaitis answered the call to field hockey.

The Biology Club included Jo Ann McGovern, Judy Najemy, Barbara Tarbox, Barbara Thornburg, John Love, Terry Bickford, James Ballard, Ken Pelletier, Barbara Caron, Tom Nault, Ollie Mason, and Charlene Lucas. Other members consisted of Joan Knapik, Eileen Sheehan, Mary Hoyt, Sandy Perron, Pat Gibbons, Kathy Rogers, Linda Riani, Rachel Archambault, Sandy Boudreau, Pat Buffone, Janice Finney, and Karen Gaucher. Still other scientifically inclined students who joined the Biology Club were Paul Gibbs, Nancy Gwozdowski, Sara Vartanian, Wayne Vigeant, Nancy Moren, Jane Lucas, and Lynda

Anderson.

Once again mid-year time approached, and once again we all survived the ordeal of cramming.

The various school clubs and organizations attracted several members of our class while eight boys joined the basketball team and an equal number of girls represented the girls' team.

The softball team included Joan Knapik, Jackie Nowlan, Sandy Perron, Barbara Thornburg, Jane Lucas, and Karen Monaham, while Joe Scannell, Don Jernstrom, Dan LaForte, Tom Nault, and Oliver Mason comprised the sophomores on the baseball team.

The annual school play entitled Our Hearts Were Young and Gay was aided by sophomores Nancy Lettic, Rachel Archambault, Sandy Boudreau, Joan Knapik, Barbara Humes, and Kathy Rogers.

Again summer was upon us, and our sophomore year came to a close.

Class rings, Junior Prom, title of upperclassmen: these and many other thoughts came into our minds as school bells rang out once again.

We very carefully chose class officers and selected Tom Nault, President; Paul Gibbs, Vice-President; Richard Green, Secretary; Barbara Caron, Treasurer; and Steve Kotel, Class Captain. The Student Council members were Donna Allaire, Paul Gibbs, Richard Carbrello, Oliver Mason, and Tom Nault.

The football and field hockey teams continued to appeal to many in our class.

Our first symbol of "upperclassmenship" finally came with the arrival of our class rings. The rings were selected by Patricia Gibbons, Susan Dulmaine, Nancy Gwozdowski, Maurice O'Brien, and Oliver Mason.

The football and field hockey teams continued playing their best, and our football team was the recipient of the Blackstone Valley Championship Award for its fine performance during the season.

The cheerleaders also won recognition for a fine performance by taking home the fourth place trophy from the annual David Prouty Cheerleaders' Tournament. Donna Allaire, Janice Finney, and Gayle Schofield were added participants on the squad this year. Linda Silun and Nancy Zemaitis also helped along with the cheerleaders in the efforts to create school spirit.

Our first prom was already approaching, and we juniors were all prepared to display our hard work for this event. When June 10th arrived, the gym had been beautifully decorated to set the theme for "A Touch of Paradise". Joan Knapik was selected queen, with Charlene Lucas, Janice Finney, Nancy Lee, and Linda Lachance composing her court. Our prom was certainly an occasion to remember.

Mary Hamilton, Louise Gravel, Linda Lachance, and David Roach each qualified for the title of Horace Mann Student by attaining an average of 90 percent or better for two consecutive years.

The sixth annual induction of the National Honor Society, held in May, added the following juniors to its membership: Joan Knapik, Mary Hamilton, Barbara Caron, David Roach, Raymond Boucher, William Philbrook, Linda Lachance, Maureen Foley, Louise Gravel, Mary Ann Tricarico, and Lynda Anderson.

Summer vacation was soon upon us, and it was gladly welcomed by everyone.

After a long and restful summer, the class of '67 proudly returned to Millbury High, but this year there was to be something different, yes, a definite change was noticeable in everyone—at last we had reached our long range goal—we were seniors!

As usual, class elections were held, and Tom Nault, for the third time re-established his title of President. Mary Hamilton was elected Vice-President; Dan LaForte, Secretary; Barbara Caron, Treasurer; and Steve Kotel, Class Captain. The Student Council chose Paul Gibbs as President, along with Tom Nault, Vice-President, and Donna Allaire, Secretary. Next on the agenda after elections came the formulation of the Aftermath Staff. Jo Anne Taraskiewicz was chosen Editor-in-Chief, with Mary Kerr and Linda Silun Assistant Editors. Donna Allaire and David Roach were selected by the faculty to serve as Associate Editors.

Dan LaForte, Charlene Lucas, Linda Silun, Joan Knapik, and Lynda Anderson all worked diligently to supply ads for the Aftermath business staff.

The football team, with captains Tom Nault, and Roy Smith, and seniors Joe Scannell, Maurice O'Brien, Dave Roach, Steve Sarja, Mike Noonan, Bob Pelletier, Dan LaForte, and Al Yuknavich, compiled a five win-three loss record for the season. Dan LaForte was awarded the Most Valuable Player Trophy.

The Reflector staff named Joan Knapik Editor-in-Chief, Mary Kerr Literary Editor, and Eileen Sheehan Features Editor.

The Magazine drive, managed by Linda Lachance, was once again a success, and although the seniors didn't win the drive as a class, senior homeroom 30 pulled through and won the pizza party. After all, we just couldn't let the juniors win that, too!

Our attention was soon directed to the plans for our final prom. Barbara Humes and Nancy Zemaitis were chosen as chairman and assistant chairman, respectively. January 27th was selected as the prom date, while "Swiss Holiday" was chosen as the prom theme. Linda Lachance reigned as queen while Charlene Lucas, Janice Finney, Jo Anne Taraskiewicz, and Mary Hamilton comprised her court.

The Photographer Committee, consisting of Sheila Perry, Susan Dulmaine, Rachel Archambault, Linda Lachance, and Donna Allaire chose Loring Studios as the class photographer. All the seniors practiced smiling so their class pictures would be just lovely.

The basketball team with Joe Scannell and Dave Roach serving as co-captains, closed their season with an eight win-eleven loss record.

Joan Knapik was chosen as our D.A.R. Representative, and Tom Nault was selected to attend the Student Government Day in Boston. David Roach received recognition as a Horace Mann student again for maintaining a 90 per cent average for four years.

As Class Day and graduation drew closer, our excitement mounted increasingly. Mr. Shaw announced the following as Senior Honor Students: David Roach, Mary Hamilton, Louise Gravel, Sara Vartanian, Linda Lachance, Nancy Lettic, Maureen Foley, Wayne Vigeant, William Philbrook, Nancy Moren, Susan Nettelbladt, Karen Gaucher, Maureen Gibson, Patrícia Gibbons, Joan Knapik, Mary Ann Tricarico, Marcia Wetherbee, and Lynda Anderson.

The graduation speakers were David Roach, Mary Hamilton, Louise Gravel, and Sara Vartanian.

One of our last official duties as seniors was to elect Class Day speakers. Those chosen were Tom Nault, the Address of Welcome; Oliver Mason, Class Statistics; Barbara Caron and Dan LaForte, Class Gifts; again Tom Nault, Class Prophecy; Susan Nettelbladt, Omissions and Corrections; Jo Anne Taraskiewicz, Last Will and Testament; and Lynda Anderson, Class History.

Our remaining weeks were busily spent preparing for graduation. The Motto, Song and Tie Committees all worked hard to complete final arrangements. Everyone impatiently awaited the arrival of graduation.

Although we shall all go our separate ways in life, the friendships we have established, the experiences we have encountered, and the marked increase in knowledge which we have all attained, will provide a pleasant memory for us when we reflect upon our fun-filled days at Millbury High.

Lynda Anderson

Class Gifts

To Donna Allaire,
Who drives a truck,
A rabbit's foot
To give her luck.

Whose laugh is so funny,
We give this little
Jar of honey.

To Maurice O'Brien,
A public speaker,
We give this dirty ole
Ripped up sneaker.

To James Ojerholm,
A real golf ace,
We give a divot
That he can't replace.

To Stephen Orcutt,
Who likes to sleep,
We give a pillow
That he can keep.

To Kenneth Pelletier,
Who's often inert,
We give a tack
To keep him alert.

To Robert Pelletier,
Who is no fool,
We hope he'll live
By this golden rule.

To Sandra Perron,
Our catcher in softball,
We give this rye
That's good, but small.

To Sheila Perry,
Whose spirit is "Sonny,"
We give to her
A stuffed Easter Bunny.

To William Philbrook,
Our top scientist,
We give our highest award.
Of course, we insist.

To Roberta Platts,
Who has rosy cheeks,
We give some gum
That will last for weeks.

To Linda Riani,
Who has a strong "Will,"
A new piggy bank
We hope she can fill.

A friend to us all,
We give a girlfriend
Who's really a doll.

To Douglas Savoie,
Who is very quiet,
A protest sign
To start a small riot.

To Joseph Scannell,
Our best athlete,
We give a worn-out
Football cleat.

To Eileen Sheehan,
A real gym pro,
A whiffle bat
And a ball to throw.

To Linda Silum,
Who's bright as a dime,
We give some polish
So she'll always shine.

To Donna Smith,
Who's full of school spirit,
We give a megaphone
So everyone will hear it.

To Royce Smith
Of football fame,
We give this ball
To remember the game.

To Allen Stacy,
Who has fun in gym,
We give a towel
For after a swim.

To Jo Anne Taraskiewicz,
Editor of the Aftermath,
We give a compass
So she'll take the right path.

To Barbara Tarbox,
A girl with charm,
We give a bracelet
To wear on her arm.

To Barbara Thornburg,
Who owns a horse,
We give a whip
To show some force.

To Richard Thulin,
Who came from South High,
We give our school banner
To remember us by.

To Mary Ann Tricarico,
At algebra an old hand,
We know she'll enjoy
Alice in Wonderland.

To Sara Vartanian,
Who studies a lot,
We give this fish
That we just caught.

To Linda Vassar,
A Glee Club member,
We give an elephant
She'll always remember.

To Wayne Vigeant,
In math he does well,
Two lines for him
To prove parallel.

To Bruce Watts,
A mechanic at heart,
We give this motor
He can take apart.

To Marcia Wetherbee,
A Science Fair buff,
We give this slide rule
And hope it's enough.

To John Whiterell,
A boy in demand,
We give a jar
Of Florida sand.

To Linda Young,
Who has a nice smile,
We give this picture
Of Gomer Pyle.

To Alfred Yuknavich,
As fast as we can,
A lock for his license
So he won't lose it again.

To Nancy Zemaitis,
Who stands out in sports,
We give this pair
Of torn gym shorts.

To Bernadette Zimage,
Everyone's friend,
We give this
Little sign—The End.

Class Prophecy

The sound of the alarm clock jarringly woke me from my sleep. As I rubbed my eyes, I stepped from my bed for my robe. The cold floor startled my senses back to reality. It was indeed going to be a hard day for the President of the United States.

I walked over to the table where the morning paper lay. My special assistants, Mike Noonan and Alfred Yuknavich, had seen to it that I got the paper first thing in the morning. The headlines were the usual, everyday thing: continued fighting in Vietnam, racial incidents all over the country. I glanced at an editorial by newspaperman James Ballard. Jim had a lot of criticism about the war, but his ideas were nothing original. As I put the paper down Donna Allaire, my maid, brought my breakfast. After a quick breakfast and shower, I dressed in my new navy blue suit. Steven Couture, the Presidential tailor, had done an excellent job on it.

As I came out of the bedroom, Mike handed me my schedule for the weekend. I had six meetings at the White House in the morning.

The first conference was with Elizabeth Duplisea, Patricia Faron, Maureen Gibson, and Nancy Gwozdowski. These girls made up a committee to protest my plans for compulsory active duty in a branch of the armed forces for women.

Next Donald Blake, Raymond Boucher, Patricia Buffone, and Earle Davidson, representatives of the auto industry, came to protest the recent law that stipulates many safety factors in all new automobiles at no extra cost.

Senators Richard Dwinell, Mark Gauthier, Paul Gibbs, and Mary Hamilton followed. These people were my special advisors for the Vietnam War.

A discussion with Congressmen Mary Kerr, Paula Cournoyer, Richard Carbrello, and Sandra Boudreau concerning progress of the Congressional Investigation on Un-American Activities was then scheduled.

Next on the agenda was a consultation with Paul Gagliardi, Karen Gaucher, Alan Cummings, and Ollie Mason, heads of United Steel. A steel strike at this time could cripple our activities in the Vietnam War.

My last meeting in the morning was with the governors of the Northeast. They were Governors Marilyn Dunn from Maine; Robert Blake from New Hampshire; David Carlson from Vermont; Richard Green, Massachusetts; Ronald Gemme, Rhode Island; Patricia Gibbons, New Jersey; Roger Godbout, New York; Patrick Guilfoyle, Pennsylvania; and Janet Howard from Connecticut.

As I finished reading, I knew the list would grow throughout the day. Mike, Al, and I started to leave for my office downstairs. As we left the room, Secret Service agents joined us. They were Donald Jernstrom and Richard Larosee. Both of these men had been my bodyguards since the first days of my term in 1984. As we reached my office, I stopped to talk to my secretary, Lynda Anderson. As usual, she had many letters for me. She also had a wire from Daniel LaForte, asking if he could talk with me about his new ideas for safety standards in spaceships. I looked at the clock as I sat down, 8:30. From here on in, the time would seem to fly by. Twenty-four hour days are just too short for Presidents.

Two hours later, I was through with the scheduled interviews. Next would be a trip to the Bureau of Federal Investigation. I was to meet with the regional heads of the F.B.I. The heads of the regional offices were David Lacouture, Louis Lambert, Dennis Leary, Janice Lemoine, Allen Stacy, and Sara Vartanian. I would also see my old friend, Maurice O'Brien, the new head of the F.B.I. Before the meeting I took a tour of the building. I was guided by the heads of the different departments. Nancy Lettic, the head of the typing department, showed me the large typing office. From the typing office I went to the crime laboratory. Here I was guided by John Love and William Philbrook. There wasn't anything about crime that could stump these two men! After a tour of the lab we went up to the finger printing room. The heads of this department were James Ojerholm and Terry Bickford. They showed me the new procedure for fingerprinting and the files they have.

By 12:00 the meeting was over. It was lunch time and we decided to eat at Washington's Finney-Foley Restaurant, owned by Janice Finney and Maureen Foley. The restaurant was such a huge success because of the excellent chefs, Robert Blake, Jiro Howard, Charlene Blackburn and Jo Ann Blanchard. The hostess, Barbara Caron, showed us to the Presidential guest room. I couldn't help but think how mad Janice Collette, the White House cook, would be when she found out I wasn't going to eat there today.

After lunch it was a quick trip to the airport. My chauffeur, Jeanne DiPilato, made good time to the airport despite the usually heavy traffic. The President's Jet, Air Force One, was waiting as we pulled up. I had a quick talk with the pilot, Major Mary Hoyt and the co-pilot Sheila Hicks before we took off. We were on our way to New York for a special meeting of the Security Council. The Secretary General of the U.N. Steven Sarja, had asked me to attend this meeting. Also in attendance were Douglas Savoie, Linda Silun, Joseph Scannell, distinguished delegates from Great Britain, France, and U. S. S. R. respectively. I would take the place of our delegate to the U.N., Allen Marcell. The meeting turned out to be a small affair which we settled very quickly. Within the hour we were in the air flying back to Washington.

From the airport we took a helicopter, flown by Marine Captains Stephen Orcutt and Kenneth Pelletier, to the White House. From here, it was back to the White House office to look over several bills which Congress had sent for my signature. The first one was a bill, introduced by Congressman Rachel Archambault, concerning compulsory service in some branch of the armed forces for all. The other bill was introduced by Senator Robert Pelletier. Senator Pelletier's bill dealt with a new system for raising money for governmental projects in foreign countries. After careful consideration, I signed the bill for compulsory active duty. I sent the other bill back to the house to be rewritten. I looked at the clock, 5:10, time for supper.

After supper I went to my room to relax after the trying day. Around seven o'clock my press secretary, David Roach, came to see me. David informed me of all the news that was released to the press during the day. He also told me that I was scheduled for a news conference tomorrow. As David was leaving, my secretary came in. She had my schedule for tomorrow. It seemed that the list grew more and more everyday.

1. 8:00 Fly to Camp David to meet with advisors. These people included Ex-Presidents John Whiterell and Jo Anne Taraskiewicz; Congressmen Royce Smith, Barbara Tarbox, Linda Young, and Bernadette Zimage; Senators Nancy Zemaitis, Marcia Wetherbee, Bruce Watts, and Barbara Thornburg; Sec. of Defense Richard Thulin; Sec. of State Mary Ann Tricarico and her secretary Linda Vassar. My military staff would also be present, Marine Major Russell Rixham, Air Force general Richard McLaughlin and Army Major Alan Lavich.

2. Fly to Cape Kennedy for a conference with our Astronauts Theresa Keyes, John Knapik, Barbara Kolofsky, Linda Lachance, Pearl Largesse, Nancy Lee, and Jane Lucas. Drs. Frank Bengtson and Steven Kotel, the heads of N.A.S.A., would brief me before meeting the astronauts.

3. Luncheon meeting with Louise Gravel, Donna Smith, Barbara Humes, and Charlene Lucas, my special committee to investigate educational loans to secondary schools in the United States.

4. Special news conference on the Vietnamese War. Reporters are: Susan McArdle and Jo Ann McGovern from the New York Times, Gale McKay and Judith Najemy from the Record American, Wayne Vigeant and Roger Harty—C. S. Monitor.

5. A meeting with representatives from the League of Women Voters: Karen Monahan, Nancy Moren, Susan Nettelbladt, Jacqueline Nowlan, and Sheila Perry.

6. Interview with Robert Nordstrom, one of America's leading physicists.

7. Dinner meeting at White House with Sandra Perron and Kathleen Rogers, the regional heads of the Job Corps.

8. Meeting with Roberta Platts and Linda Riani, deans at University of Chicago and University of California at Berkeley respectively.

9. A meeting with speech writer Eileen Sheehan.

Tomorrow should be rather hectic to say the least. The life of the President is indeed a busy one.

Thomas Nault

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1967, do hereby proclaim this to be our Last Will and Testament.

To Donna Allaire we leave the adventure and mystery of an I.B.M. machine.

To Mark Brady we leave Joe Scannell's athletic abilities.

To Jimmy Sullivan we leave Tom Nault's success as Class President.

To Kenny Bekier we leave Maurice O'Brien's golf tee.

To Paul Ludvigson we leave a few of Frank Bengtson's muscles.

To Mary Beth Hoyt we leave an appetizer so she won't eat the "Daisies."

To Gary Vaillancourt we leave the shyness Jimmy Ojerholm uses to captivate fair maidens.

To Barbara Caron we leave the warmth and sunshine of Alaska.

To an athletic future senior we leave Danny LaForte's title of "Most Valuable Football Player."

To Karen Gaucher we leave her in her Charger with her brave and fearless knight.

To Rich Dwinell we leave the adventure and danger of finding that perfect wave.

To Cindy Gemme we leave Lynda Anderson's position as captain of the Cheerleaders.

To Ollie Mason we leave the hope of finding a Honda that doesn't make funny little noises.

To Bev Chapman we leave the possibility of taking Barbara Humes' place as chairman of the Senior Prom Decorating Committee.

To Paul Gibbs we leave a goody of a summer.

To Lorraine Dunn we leave Maureen Foley's capability of being a good secretary.

To some lucky senior we leave the antics of Mike Noonan.

To Jo Ann Tebo we leave a recording of Rachel's voice to practice with.

To Dennis Leary we leave autographs of all the office help.

To Lisa Pojani we leave Judy Najemy's flair for Mod fashions.

To Tony Mangano we leave a book entitled, Roy Smith's Football Experience.

To Elaine Dunn we leave Nancy Zemaitis' position in basketball.

To Doug Savoie we leave many sunny summer days for golf.

To Maureen Roberts we leave Nancy Gwozdowski's hairdresser and clothes designer.

To Barbara Roach from Sue McArdle we leave the responsibility of the Field Hockey Team.

To Art Sparrow we see in the future Mark Gauthier's "Best Dressed" title.

To some deserving senior we leave Joan Knapik's positions of D.A.R. Representative, Reflector Editor-in-Chief, and those held in sports.

To Paul Tumas we leave Dave Roach's basketball shoes.

To Mary Hamilton we leave the title of "Little Mary of Millbury".

To the Reflector Staff we leave a volume of Mary Kerr's poems.

To Mrs. McCarron we leave someone to take over the good job Linda Silun did as home room captain with the hope that the room will win the pizza party again.

To Miss Brown we leave a good Aftermath Staff next year.

To the Class of '68 we leave the best of luck and much success in their last year.

To Mr. Beaton, Mr. Shaw, the faculty, and the guidance counselors, we leave the peace gained from the knowledge that they have made our future goals come true.

Signed, witnessed, and delivered,

PROPHECY

While walking through a very busy section of New York City on a cool October afternoon, I recognized someone I had known during my four years in high school. This old acquaintance was shaking hands with all the people who passed by. Curious to find out why he was doing this, I walked closer to the crowd. I couldn't believe my eyes when I read the poster in front of me: "ELECT THOMAS NAULT GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK." We had all known that Tommy, president of the class of '67 at Millbury Memorial High School, would be a success in whatever he did, but who would have thought that someday he would be running for governor?

The New Morality

The "now-generation"—you read about it, everyone is talking about it; but what is it? The answer to that question is relatively simple. The now-generation is made up of the teenagers of today doing the things they like to do. Now, more than ever before in the history of our civilization, teenagers are taking an active part in the social, economic, and political aspects of our society. They are inspecting, experiencing, and trying to understand the problems of the present day. Teenagers look everywhere for the truth. In this quest, new methods must be employed. The answers to such questions as what is right and what is wrong, what should or should not be done, can only be found by personal experimentation. For years we have been living by the standards of previous generations without a sense of personal accomplishment. Now we must explore these standards for ourselves.

Politically, the youth today are more aware of the world situation than ever before. Most of us know of the structure of our government and its functions. Teenagers recognize and try to become involved in whatever way possible in the problems which our government has to face. Unfortunately, our means of dealing with these problems are limited. We must be satisfied, for the most part, with demonstrations; demonstrations that adults often call immoral because students dare to say what is on their minds. They dare to oppose the officials elected to office by those old enough to vote.

Adults tell us that we do not know what we are talking about; that we are not old enough to understand what is taking place in the world. My only answer to that is the same answer that any other teenager will give: "If we are not old enough to understand and state our views, why are we considered old enough to fight and die in Vietnam?" How hypocritical can our country be to send us to fight for something we, in their opinions, do not even understand? It is my opinion that we have every moral right, within the law, to publicly express whatever opinion we choose, whenever we choose, and in whatever manner we choose.

Economically, we might say that teenagers dominate this country in many ways. We spend more money on items other than life's essentials than all other age groups combined. Teenagers' purchases help keep our economy going, yet our parents dare to call our tastes immoral. We are sometimes considered immoral in our dress and appearance. The records we listen to are immoral and the way we dance is in poor taste. Yet, who is it that designs our clothes? Who is it that comes up with these wild ideas in make-up? Who is it that advertises and makes it all seem so attractive? Who is it that keeps the teenagers constantly supplied with these supposedly immoral items? Adults, of course, who will sometimes go along with almost anything for the sake of making money. Each new fad creates a new business, circulates money, and to some degree boosts the economy. We are glad to know that we are able to help keep up economic progress. Fads will come and go, and the economy will be that much stronger for it.

The social area of the "New Morality" deals mainly with sex. This seems to be the topic of most concern to adults. Here is where they use the term "immoral" to the greatest extent. Here is where I feel they have cause for general alarm. Many say that teenagers are no worse than they ever were as far as sex is concerned and that things seem worse only because they are more publicized. I disagree here. It seems that whatever code of value existed before has, for the most part, disappeared. I agree that we should not readily accept the standards of past generations without question. But we should not be kept in the dark about sex and told that it is dirty and be expected to think nothing further of it. Teenagers today are too intelligent to be satisfied with a simple yes you may, or no you may not. But, unfortunately, we are not intelligent enough to understand that direct experimentation in search for the answers will not solve the problem either. In our desire to find out for ourselves we can do ourselves great damage; damage that is not easily repaired. In my opinion, there is only one way to give teenagers the right answers to these problems, and that is through sex education in the schools. Proper instructions can easily demonstrate the danger of finding out for yourself about what should or should not be allowed as far as sex is concerned. This new morality which teenagers are experiencing today is hopefully only a door to something better. Hopefully, it will lead beyond itself, not to an irresponsible permissiveness but to a "Thinking Morality" where men and women will, with insight and vision, understand the full implications of all their actions.

Politics And The Modern Teenager

People possess ideas that are like day and night at times. Because all these ideas can be so unlike, we can't all express them on a platform overlooking the entire United States. This is the reason why there is not a pure democracy in this country and why there must be politics in our daily lives. The democratic process is more apparent in the small town such as ours—in our town elections and town meetings. Each person should take part, therefore, in his community activities and take advantage of this great privilege that many other countries lack.

I have often thought about the prospect of running for public office in my community at some future time, but there is one drawback—the machine politician who might decide to run against me. This person does not necessarily have money of his own, but there are big businessmen standing by, ready to help a friend in need: "Anytime, Joe," they might say. "Anytime I can help out." With all this money floating around, the people see a bright and plentiful future ahead of them. But they are being misled! If the "big wheel' is elected, he may do a fine job until that inevitable pat on the shoulder or phone call, most likely from one of the friends who had helped him so much to get elected. "Gee whiz, Sam, I was wondering if you could do me a great favor. You see, I'm in a little trouble . . ." and so forth.

Does might make things right? I know in my mind that it does not. But yet, this is what makes the prospect of a teenager's participation in politics a difficult one to face. The teenagers of today, I believe, will be quite capable of assuming a responsibility in politics, however. In fact, I often think that even now we could do as good a job as everyone else has done, seeing that we are free of heart and mind, have a smaller amount of prejudice than most adults, and have no large money problems that can often upset a person's way of thinking or of making decisions. We are individuals now and we realize that one of the stepping stones in life is politics.

It is now being said that by the time all the graduates of this Class of 1967 are twenty-one years of age, Congress will have passed a bill lowering the voting age. Hopefully, the adults who will vote on this bill will see the majority of teenagers as they really are—not riotous and screaming teenagers with long, dirty hair, but dedicated young adults.

Every individual should be concerned with politics in his own town, whether he be eighteen or eigthy-eight. I would like to mention here a few steps about politics that I have set up for my own personal guidance in the future. First, I must make myself familiar with town affairs by attending the community meetings that might be open to the public and also the town meetings. This will give me a broader understanding of the many problems and the future needs of the town. Second, I will make a special effort to meet each candidate personally and not believe every bad thing that I may hear about him. If it is possible, the one thing I would really like to know is if he is dependent upon others to make his decisions or if he already has innate qualities as an individual thinker who will dedicate himself to doing his best for the common good. Last of all, if I, myself, feel at any time that things are not going the way they should, I will offer my own services to my community and to my country. It is said that if you want things done right, then do them yourself; and if we all strive as hard as we can, we will continue living in harmony and in peace.

I dedicate this speech to my father, who has unknowingly influenced me by his beliefs and actions towards the service of this town.

Louise Gravel

The Obsolete Society

Most of us are fairly satisfied with the things we have until we listen to someone else's criticisms of them. There are a considerable number of critics of our society who have a variety of complaints with which they continually try to alter the public opinion. The only problem is that they can't. Lots of people don't like to listen to disparaging remarks about themselves or their society. These are the people for whom the social critics maintain a special distaste. These are the people who usually attack any new and different ideas or suggestions having to do with morals, religion, or even fashion, and then bury them under their endless protests; the people who never have anything significant to add to a vigorous conversation except their old, wornout platitudes that they seem to have pasted to their brains; the people who never make the break from potatoes. These are the conservatives.

The conservatives seem to make up the greatest percentage of American society. The second largest group is that of the critics of the conservatives. There are also the supposedly liberal-minded people, who often turn out to be either disguised conservatives trying to get back at the critics or disguised critics trying to be inconspicuous. The rest are a sad minority of those who are deliriously happy with things just as they are. It is not a bad looking situation at first glance. But what is the American public like under its protective covering—that pliable exterior that has been molded and remolded, carved and recarved, chiseled, smoothed, and perfected? There are quite a few clues as to what does lie beneath that surface of society; it is hardly impenetrable. It is more like transparent playdough, able to be formed into any desired shape; but no matter how ornamental or flattering it appears, it fools practically no one. For it is only a manifestation of hypocrisy.

So, here we are, trapped within a false shield we have built around ourselves for protection from ourselves. Despite progress in scientific and other fields, our society is getting nowhere. As social animals, we are prisoners of the past, of old, stale ideas, of countless cliches. We are enclosed in a vacuum of outdated rules and assumptions. What we've done is make ourselves and everything we represent obsolete. We are on our own way out like the dodo and the dinosaur, but for the opposite reason: man's brain has outdated itself, it has created machines more useful than man, and now it is even trying literally to put together better human beings by means of artificial conception. If man's brain accomplished this, then eventually the whole human race would be what is considered superior today. Everybody would be alike. Wouldn't that be nice? Of course it wouldn't. That would really be the end of man. His brain would be superfluous; he would have no incentive to use it to any great extent, since no one person would have any greater mental capacity than another.

Many conservatives firmly hold on to the philosophy that "man is social; he has a primary obligation to society." Trying to believe in this gives these conservatives a sense of security. The ant is also a social animal. The ant has a primary obligation to its society. But an ant has no intelligence; an ant doesn't even have enough sense to be an individual. He just follows along with his fellow ants, building ant houses and collecting ant food and doing all the other things that ants do to keep busy every day. Quite possibly most of us enjoy being human. There is one difficulty though: a few of us have forgotten how. It's an embarrassing situation. We need help, but molding and reshaping the camouflage of our society obviously doesn't work. This camouflage has to be cut away completely.

Suppose this is done. Suppose we unearth the real human race. What is to be found under that crusty pile of conformity? Individuals—denuded and probably ashamed, but nonetheless individuals, who, if an immediate effort is not made to re-educate them will almost instinctively start rebuilding that troublesome enclosure around them, leaving them right back where they started. Knocking the wall down will be hard enough; keeping it down will take great effort on the part of everybody—every individual.

It has frequently been suggested that a thermonuclear war would be the only feasible solution to our problem. Of course only the fittest would survive. Someone has interestingly observed that these would be the most hardened of criminals—the ones in solitary confinement and the file clerks for large insurance companies, because they would be housed in fireproofed rooms and insulated by tons of the best insulator in the world—paper. So the hardened criminals and the file clerks (conveniently male and female, respectively), would be the founders of a brand-new society.

However, since nuclear war can have its unpleasant aspects, our generation has the opinion that renovation of the old society is a much better method than getting rid of it entirely. You are all undoubtedly aware of the current teeny-bopper revolution, which, in case you haven't noticed, has been somewhat successful in revitalizing man's moldy thinking patterns. If this is a beginning for the ultimate reformation of society, it will be only a matter of a decade or two before our way of life will be a genuine one, with no false barriers to contend with and no farcical games to play. If not, if this seemingly new era in the way of thinking is merely a transient illusion, it may be a direct indication that the only hope for our obsolete society will soon lie with our toughest criminals and our most well insulated file clerks.

The Need For Conservation in America Today

"America is now sauntering through her resources and through the mazes of her politics with easy nonchalance, but presently there will come a time when she will be surprised to find herself grown old,—a country crowded, strained, perplexed,—when she will be obliged to pull herself together, adopt a new regimen of life, husband her resources, concentrate her strength, steady her methods, sober her views, restrict her vagaries, trust her best, not her average members." So wrote Woodrow Wilson more than seventy years ago, and the time of which he wrote is now upon us. We are indeed crowded, strained and perplexed, but what have we done about it? We have expanded our government, used much of our resources and liberalized our views. We have not steadied our ways or restricted our ramblings. The time is here to start anew. It is now when we must decide to make, as leader of the free world, a united stand against Communism, to stop turning our free society into a welfare state, to restore the feeling of pride each American should have for his country, and to guarantee individual freedom for every American. The time has come for conservatism.

To insure individual freedom at home America must be aware of the threat to freedom in the other corners of the world. Although the conquest of a small country thousands of miles from the United States would not present a direct Communist threat to America, it should still concern every American because America is the birthplace of freedom and she is the protector of liberty. This is why Americans are fighting in Vietnam. The United States is involved in this war because it became apparent that outside aggression from North Vietnam and Red China was endangering the independence of South Vietnam, and the United States had the responsibility, because of the Seato alliance to defend that country.

It is strange that Americans fighting on foreign soil, when looking home for support, are confronted with repudiation or complete condemnation. This is because the liberal leaders of today are incapable of instilling a sense of pride in the individual citizen. They cannot arouse the people to support a cause they do not understand.

The gap between the government and the citizen has become too large, it is necessary to close this gap, and conservative ideals can accomplish this task. These ideals are not merely allusions to the "good old days" but rather designs to bring the government closer to the people, for in America the government has become big business when it should instead be everybody's business. Unfortunately, today's citizens are becoming complacent and uninterested. They are willing to elect officials who promise to do all the work for them in Washington. The administration is no longer considered "our" government but "the" government and "the" government is losing touch with the people.

This government is called the "Great Society." It is the society where everything will be taken care of by "Uncle Sam" if he is given the time and the opportunity. We are provided with medical care, head starts, and job training. It is difficult to find fault with the humane ideals set forth by the "War on Poverty" but it is just as difficult to watch the power of the federal government expand to influence every aspect of American life. Americans should be aware that the same power used to give them these programs in 1967 can be used to take them away in 1984. This is improbable but possible. The power is there and the liberals like it that way. Conservatism would entrust this power to the people. The people would then have the opportunity to renew their pride in the country, and make America, once again, the land of individuals.

A good point of comparison between the liberal and conservative philosophies is that of the draft. The draft has come under close scrutiny by those liberals who feel that the only fair way is the elimination of deferments by starting a lottery system. They fail to realize that the reason America has come so far in so short a period is its great higher education system. The introduction of a lottery draft would have a drastic effect on higher education. Of course it is true that the current system does have its faults and that some individuals will escape military service, but these people could find a way to escape the lottery system also. It should be remembered that each male citizen in the United States is obliged by law to fulfill six years obligation to military service. This and not a lottery draft is the equalizer. Conservatives feel that the present system is good, though not perfect. They are not willing to change just for the sake of changing. Established ideas are not always bad because they are old, nor are fresh ideas always the answer. There is no question that new thoughts and new opinions vitalize a free society, but the foundation of democracy is made up of firmly established and solid ideals. A sturdy foundation is imperative in the fast-moving world of today.

America has come a long way since 1776. When one looks at the unrest in China, where in 2000 B. C. there existed an amazing civilization, or to the uproar in the Middle East, where less than 2000 years ago Jesus Christ lived and died, one cannot but admire the astounding system of government we have in the United States. In 191 years, democracy has made this country the greatest country in the world. The Constitution has done well by us. This is so because it is based on the idea that each individual is free—free to do as he wishes in all his affairs as long as he does not infringe on the rights of others. Today's leaders must realize that each citizen should make his own way. They should have faith in America's ability to think for herself and reason things out. For although today's world is highly complicated, the answers to problems lie not in high-powered social institutions but within each individual. For truly "the guide of life is common sense."
